<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reality is something that is true to life, but fantasy has magical components • Use details from the text to help visualize the story in their head
Stage 2 - Assessment Evidence (acceptable assessment evidence that students understand)
Performance Tasks: (what authentic performance task (s) will students demonstrate understanding: by what criteria will it be judged?) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Concept question board • Formulate questions or ideas they have about money • Students create an opinion piece answering the question "Which is better: having more friends or having more money?" (Provide reasons with support) • Students can design their own money complete with appropriate symbols. Students explain why they chose to use those specific symbols. Students can present their "money" by explaining each element (symbol, phrase, etc.) they included to the class. • Students work in small groups to brainstorm a business idea and the specifics (resources, people, funding, etc.) needed to begin the business. Students design a poster to share their "business plan" with the class. • Students will create a budget and timeline to have enough money to save for a wanted item and help others based on a given allowance • Create an opinion piece that includes an introduction, a clearly stated opinion, reasons to support the opinion, linking words, and a concluding statement or section. (Please note that additional standards will be addressed when completing these tasks (Speaking and Listening, Language, and Reading).	Other Evidence: (quizzes, tasks, academic prompts, homework, observations) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Informal observations and formative assessment • Weekly selection tests • Interactive journals • Classroom discussions • Tasks related to specific skill
Stage 3 - Learning Plan (sequence of teaching and learning activities that will produce desired understandings, engagement and development) Use WHERETO elements to help you:
Learning Activities (Lesson Plans): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Read the big idea question (What is the value of money?) then discuss what the phrase "the value of money" means. H

- Introduce story by giving some background information that might help students understand the story they are about to read. H
- Give students time to preview the story allowing for questions based on unknown words, illustrations, and any wonderings they might have about the story. E
- Note: key vocabulary terms introduced, as needed by various learning activities and performance tasks. Teacher and students read and discuss stories out of the textbook based on the friendship theme. As an on-going activity, students will keep a journal and post information gleaned on the concept question board. E
- Give weekly tests on comprehension of each story read. E
- Working in cooperative groups, students discuss either a) How important money is to people or b) What things are more important to people than money. Teacher observes and coaches students as they work. E-2
- Each student will design their own money complete with appropriate symbols. Students explain why they chose to use those specific symbols. Students can present their "money" by explaining each element (symbol, phrase, etc.) they included to the class. E,T
- Students respond to the written prompt: In this unit you have read about some people who were very successful. How do you define success? What part does money play in your definition? Use your writing skills to explain what the lesson is and why it is so important).E-2
