Enduring Understandings: (what are the big ideas, what are the specific understandings desired)

Students will understand how to...

- Ask and answer questions referring to a text for an answer
- Determine how the central message is conveyed through key details
- Determine the meaning of literal and nonliteral words/ phrases in the text
- Refer to chapters and scenes when referring to stories
- Identify and understand the key idea in a text
- Compare and contrast themes and plots from two similar stories
- We make conclusions based on previous knowledge and experiences

Essential Questions: (what questions will foster inquiry, understanding, and transfer of learning)

- Why do we tell stories?

Supporting Questions

1. In what ways can a story be told?
2. What places in the world can you travel to in your mind while reading a story or poem?
3. How can listening to a story make you feel better when you are scared?
4. How could hearing about stories of the past be important to you now and in the future?
5. If you were not able to write a story using words, how would you go about telling your story?
6. What can you learn about a culture through its storytelling?
7. Who are some men or women who have done great things and have had stories written about them?
8. Why do you think people like to read or tell stories about people who have done great things?
9. What emotions have you experienced when reading or hearing a story?
10. How might you use storytelling to get others to feel certain feelings? To tell about yourself?

Big Idea(s)

What is the story that you want to tell?

What Students will know: (what knowledge will they acquire)

- Different types of genres
- Differences between Text-to-Self, Text-to-World, and Text-to-Text connections
- Understand predictions are based on logical assessments of the text
- Recognize that one event has a relationship with another event
- How to connect their understanding of the texts on storytelling to analyze and draw

What Students will be able to do: (what will they eventually be able to do as a result of their skills learned/knowledge)

- Identifying genre
- Making text connections
- Making predictions
- Asking questions to better understand text
- Identifying cause and effect
- Write an opinion narrative using complete quality sentences
- Utilize peer groups and writer's conferences throughout the writing process

Stage 2 - Assessment Evidence (acceptable assessment evidence that students understand)

Performance Tasks: (what authentic performance task (s) will students demonstrate understanding: by what criteria will it be judged?) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concept question board Formulate questions or ideas they have about storytelling Students compare and contrast various versions of the same story. Then create a Venn diagram displaying the information. Students write a tall tale sharing and exaggerating his or her personal strengths in a way that would be shared with people in their future. (narrative) In small groups, students will create a legend, folk tale or fable of a language and grammar concept, a literary character, mathematical concept, or historical event. Sort stories into the different storytelling genres (fable, fairy tale, tall tale, folk tale, legend, etc.) based on the elements of each type of story. (Please note that additional standards will be addressed when completing these tasks (Speaking and Listening, Language, and Reading).	Other Evidence: (quizzes, tasks, academic prompts, homework, observations) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Informal observations and formative assessment Weekly selection tests Interactive journals Classroom discussions Tasks related to specific skill

Stage 3 - Learning Plan (sequence of teaching and learning activities that will produce desired understandings, engagement and development) Use WHERETO elements to help you:

Learning Activities (Lesson Plans): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Read the big idea question (What is the story that you want to tell?) then discuss how everyone has a story to tell and how some stories are about families or cultures. H Introduce story by giving some background information that might help students understand the story they are about to read. H Give students time to preview the story allowing for questions based on unknown words, illustrations, and any wonderings they might have about the story. E

- Note: key vocabulary terms introduced, as needed by various learning activities and performance tasks. Teacher and students read and discuss stories out of the textbook based on the friendship theme. As an on-going activity, students will keep a journal and post information gleaned on the concept question board. E
- Give weekly tests on comprehension of each story read. E
- Working in cooperative groups, students discuss family traditions and what the traditions mean to them. Teacher observes and coaches students as they work. E-2
- Each student will write and illustrate their own book based on their tall tale. E,T
- Students respond to the written prompt: In this unit you have read about the different kinds of stories. What are some of the things you have enjoyed in each story? Use your writing skills and text evidence to explain why you enjoyed each part so much. E-2
